

Always Here to Help

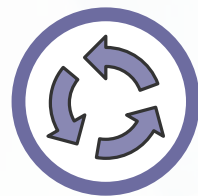

Today, a new meaning of work life is emerging. This change transcends physical proximity and happens where we live, work and play. No matter what we do or where we work, companies are seeking solutions that make everyday life easier for their employees and customers. Circles virtual concierge services provide valuable support and help ensure their wellbeing.

Circles specializes in concierge and business support services tailored to solve for a variety of business needs, such as improving productivity, satisfaction, engagement, attraction and recruitment. The service is accessible via on-site staff, toll-free number, email or customized web portal. The program supports employees with a broad range of requests from travel suggestions and booking to product research to assistance with everyday life needs and so much more.

With Circles, the goal is to relieve mental load from your employees' work and personal lives – we replace the thought of "I have to remember to do that" and replace them with "I'm so glad that's taken care of."
