

Invest in Your Potential

By effectively managing your community's energy usage, you can increase efficiency, significantly reduce utility costs and boost the impact of sustainability programs while also extending asset lifecycles.

A key metric for benchmarking energy consumption is energy use intensity (EUI). In senior living specifically, EIU ranges from less than 100 to more than 1,000 kBtu/ft², with those at the 95th percentile using about 4 times the energy of those at the 5th percentile.*

As you assess your current energy management efforts and consider options for sustainability, potential savings and optimization, Sodexo can help.

We can assist your community with getting the most from your energy budget without sacrificing productivity – allowing you to allocate those savings to other growth-driving initiatives.

Sodexo uses accredited and standardized Energy Management systems.

Performance and Cost Savings

The considerations that determine your community's energy consumption are broad-reaching and variable. Senior care communities with more units per square foot, more workers per square foot, and/or experience more heating degree days (HDD) use more energy, on average.
