

Healthier Spaces Start with Better Hygiene

In the fight against COVID-19 and other infectious diseases, keeping hands and surfaces clean is essential to protecting personal health. As you develop your strategies to promote healthier spaces throughout your facilities, it's important to include convenient and effective methods for cleaning and disinfection.

With a full array of products and expert advice, Sodexo is ready to help you rise to the challenge of creating safer and healthier environments wherever you operate. From supplies for disinfecting high-touch surfaces to touchless hand sanitizing stations and more, we've got everything you need to keep your people safe.

Hygiene Stations

Hand Hygiene

Touchless Technology

Sodexo's convenient hygiene stations provide the effective cleaning power your people need to stay safe and the reassurance they deserve.

A 2016 study by The Journal of Applied Microbiology found that jet hand dryers spread 60 times more germs than warm air dryers and 1,300 times more germs than paper towels.

Touchless hygiene stations provide enhanced protection and convenience.
